RttT Program Development

Regional----

On May 16, Madison Transformation Team members attended an all-day RttT Regional planning meeting hosted by Mid-Ohio ESC at the Conference Center. ODE and RttT staff made a number of morning presentations and then were available to answer district specific questions during lunch and the afternoon.

State----

On Friday, May 25 Transformation team members attended an all-day Statewide Educator Evaluation Symposium hosted by ODE and RttT at the Greater Columbus Convention Center. Attendees participated in a mini survey, completed by electronic means, regarding their knowledge of the OTES development process. Approximately 2,400 attendees heard Joanne Weiss, Chief of Staff to the Secretary, U.S. Department of Education and Stan Heffner, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Ohio Department of Education provide opening remarks. A panel of experts with participants ranging from the opening remarks speakers to Presidents of the Ohio Education Association and Ohio Federation of Teachers responded to questions about evaluations and changes being brought about by RttT activities. Four sessions were then provided for participants to attend on a variety of topics ranging from evaluation system pilot experiences to straight talk sessions with ODE's executive leaders.

Planning for 2012-13 School Year

The first meeting to plan activities for continuing the development of the OTES student achievement side will be held on Monday, June 4. Next year's work will focus on how the transformation team will bring both the teacher performance and student achievement portions into the new Ohio teacher Evaluation System to be used at Madison. Dr. David Silverberg, project facilitator through Ashland University's Telego Center has attended meetings with the transformation team and will be working with the district to complete the OTES final draft. The district's allocation request for FY 2013 is $ 115,039.77 plus any carry over funds for RttT activities.
